

Monday Morning News 7/22/24

Director's Note

Monday morning news is arriving late from the Northwoods. I wish I could share my view with everyone. It truly is a joy to spend a week in tiny and beautiful Springstead WI each summer!

Last week was amazing with the 50% off sale all week. Hopefully each department has room on their shelves for new items.

Often when passing through downstairs I hear lots of uplifting and interesting conversations. I would like to use this reading to kindly remind everyone that ECO's Volunteer Code of Conduct asks that we all are respectful in our conversations and that we avoid topics such as religion, politics, and personal matters that can be overheard by customers and other volunteers. Everyone is entitled to their own opinion and we need to be cognizant of the fact that not everyone's view and beliefs are the same and our conversations can be hurtful and harassing.

I appreciate everyone's kindness and consideration for those they volunteer with.
